China Lights Lantern Festival at Boerner Botanical Gardens Celebrates Final Weekend

Variety of mementos and giveaways to be distributed Friday–Sunday

MILWAUKEE (Oct. 25, 2018) — Event organizers of the China Lights Lantern Festival at Boerner Botanical Gardens remind all ticket-holders that their tickets, with the end date of Oct. 21, are good through the Oct. 28 extension. A limited number of tickets are still available for purchase.

China Lights: Panda-Mania, a celebration of Asian culture, features the magical glow of 41 larger-than-life sculptural lantern displays that illuminate nine acres of Milwaukee's Boerner Botanical Gardens in Whitnall Park, at 9400 Boerner Drive, Hales Corners, WI. The event, presented by Tri City National Bank, also offers professional entertainment, a bustling marketplace, and a wide variety of food and beverage selections. The event runs from 5:30–10 p.m. daily through Sunday. The event officially closes Sunday, Oct. 28, 2018 at 10 p.m.

The closing weekend will offer a variety of giveaways as mementos of the occasion. Friday through Sunday, the first 500 visitors each day will receive the official China Lights drawstring backpack, compliments of Gruber Law Offices. Also being distributed will be buy-one-get-one coupons for dinner and a movie at BistroPlex Southridge, courtesy of Marcus Theaters.

China Lights e-tickets, which include priority access at the Welcome Gate, may be purchased online at chinalights.org. The e-ticket can be scanned from a print copy or directly from a phone. Traditional hard-copy tickets may be purchased in person at Boerner Botanical Gardens, Milwaukee County Parks Public Services Office (9480 Watertown Plank Road), Mitchell Park Domes (524 S. Layton Blvd.), and major Milwaukee County Parks golf courses.
