

2024 Reforestation Seedling Sale – Tree Characteristics

Tree Species	Sun Tolerance	Soil Tolerance	Growth Rate	Tree Growth Pattern	Tree Size	Additional Information
CONIFERS	CONIFERS
Arborvitae, Green Giant (Thuja arborvitae)	Full-part sun	Tolerates most soils; avoid wet sites	Fast	Conical	30-40 ft. high 10+ ft. wide	Dark green color all year; terrific for privacy screen and windbreaks; deer resistant
Fir, Concolor (Abies concolor)	Full-part sun	Rich, medium moisture, well- drained soil	Medium	Narrow conical	40-70 ft. high 20-30 ft. wide	Also known as white fir; popular Christmas tree; resembles blue spruce with blue-green-silver color
Fir, Douglas (Lincoln) (Pseudotsuga menziesii var. glauca)	Full-part sun	Various soils; Ioamy, sandy, clay, wet	Medium	Pyramidal , ornamental	60- 80 ft. high 10- 20 ft. wide	Popular Christmas tree; some deer resistance; road salt tolerant
Fir, Fraser (Abies fraseri)	Full-part sun	Prefers acidic, well drained soils	Slow- Medium	Pyramidal	30-40 ft. high 20-25 ft. wide	Beautiful Christmas tree, dark blue- green needles with silvery undersides, strong branches
Pine, White  (Pinus strobus)	Full-part sun	Various soils; clay, dry, loamy, sandy, wet	Fast	Pyramidal, irregular	80+ ft. high 30-40 ft. wide	State tree; transplants easily; used for screen & windbreaks
Spruce, Norway (Picea abies)	Full-part sun	Rich, moist soils	Fast	Pyramidal, weeping branches	50-70 ft. high 25-40 ft. wide	Good for windbreaks; deer resistant
Spruce, White  (Picea glauca)	Full-part sun	Variety of soils	Slow- Medium	Pyramidal	40-70 ft. high 20-30 ft. wide	Does well in urban and rural settings; light green color; beneficial to wildlife especially turkey; Christmas tree; windbreaks

Tree Species	Sun Tolerance	Soil Tolerance	Growth Rate	Tree Growth Pattern	Tree Size	Additional Information
DECIDUOUS TREES	DECIDUOUS TREES
Dogwood, Pogoda  (Cornus alternifolia)	Full-part shade	Prefers acidic, moist, well-drained soils. Will tolerate some dry sites when established	Medium	Broad, oval, upright	15-25 ft. high 15-25 ft. wide	Showy flowers and dark red fall color; attracts butterflies and birds; tolerate of walnut toxicity; can be used in hedge row; can be grown under utility lines
Dogwood, White Flowering  (Cornus florida)	Full-part sun	Various soils; clay, Ioamy, sandy. Prefers moist conditions.	Medium	Round, ornamental	20-30 ft. high 20-30 ft. wide	Showy white blossoms; purple-red fall color; fruit eaten by birds and mammals, can be grown under utility lines
Hophornbeam, Eastern (Also known as American Hophornbeam and Ironwood) (Ostrya virginiana)	Full sun-part shade	Prefers slightly	Slow- medium	Matures to a round, dense crown	20-30 ft. high 10-20 ft. wide	Papery hop-like flowers, golden yellow-orange fall color and shaggy bark when mature. Provides food for many bird species, larval butterflies and moths. Has few pests. Is sensitive to road salt.
Maple, Red  (Acer rubrum)	Full Sun-part shade		Medium- Fast	Narrow, dense crown, ornamental	40-60 ft. high 30-40 ft. wide	Red fall color; tolerates wet soil, drought, black walnut, and air pollution; deer resistant
Maple, Sugar  (Acer saccharum)	Full sun-part shade		Medium	Round, dense crown	60-80 ft. high 30-60 ft. wide	Orange to red fall color; produces sap for syrup; leaves compost well

Tree Species	Sun Tolerance	Soil Tolerance	Growth Rate	Tree Growth Pattern	Tree Size	Additional Information
Oak, Pin  (Quercus palustris)	Full sun		A faster growing red oak species	Pyramidal when young and matures to rounded shape.	50-70 ft. high 60+ ft. wide	Dark green leaves. Tolerates heat and air pollution. Provides food for wildlife. Fall foilage is orange-bronze.
Oak, Shingle  (Quercus imbricaria)	Full-part Sun	Prefers moist, well- drained acidic soils, but tolerates intermittent drought and is adapatable to adverse soils.		Symetrical when young and matures with a rounded crown.	50-70 ft. high 30-50 ft. wide	Shiny, unusual lance shaped leaves. Can be used as an ornamental and shade tree. Attracts wildlife. Tolerates city conditions.
Oak, White  (Quercus alba)	Full-part sun	Various soils; clay, Ioamy, sandy, dry, wet	Medium	Round - oval	60-80 ft. high 40+ ft. wide	Keystone ecosystem tree, important insect host plant; fall color; attracts wildlife.
Plum, American  (wild) (Prunus americana)	Full-part sun	Various soils; clay,	Medium- fast	Round	10-20 ft. high 15-25 ft. wide	White spring flowers and small 1 inch edible plums. Attracts pollinators, songbirds, turkey. Great alternative to invasive pear.
Poplar, Tulip  (Liriodendron tulipifera)	Full sun	Various soils; clay, loamy, sandy, wet	Fast	Oval	70-100 ft. high 30-40 ft. wide	Leaves and flowers have a "tulip" shape
Redbud Eastern  (Cercis canadensis)	Full-part sun	Various soils; clay, loamy, sandy	Medium - fast	Rounds, ornamental	20-40 ft. high 20 ft. wide	Heart shaped leaves. Purple-red fragrant flowers in early spring.

Tree Species	Sun Tolerance	Soil Tolerance	Growth Rate	Tree Growth Pattern	Tree Size	Additional Information
Serviceberry, Allegheny  (Amelanchier laevis)	Full sun-part shade	Prefers moist, well- drained soil, but tolerates various soils	Medium	Upright, thicket form	15-30 ft. high 15-30 ft. high	White blossoms; edible berries; attracts birds; fall color; deer resistant
Sycamore, American  (Plantanus occidentalis)	Full sun-part shade	Prefers rich, moist soil but will do well in average, medium to wet well-drained soils		Horizontal branching and rounded habit	60-90 ft. high 40-60 ft. wide	Interesting bark; has black walnut and air pollution tolerance; deer resistant
SPECIALTY SHRUBS		-
Button Bush  (Cephalanthus occidentalis)	Full sun-part shade	Average moisture to very wet soils	Fast	Round	5-12 ft. high 4-8 ft. wide	White rounded ball-shaped flowers and attracts pollinators. Good for naturalizing shorelines and can grow
Highbush Cranberry, American (Viburnum trilobum)	Full sun-part shade	Prefers average, moist, well-drained soil. Will tolerate	Medium		8-12 ft. high 8-12 ft. wide	Low maintenance. Showy flowers and red berries. Attractive hedge or specimen bush. Attracts butterflies
Elderberry, American  (Sambucus canadensis)	Full sun-part shade	Prefers rich, moist soil but will toterate well- drained soil.	Fast	Round wide shape	5-12 ft. high 3-8 ft. wide	White flowers attract butterflies and other insects; edible fruit. Some deer resistance. Black walnut resistant.