God’s Word For The Week

“Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask him. This, then, is how you should pray: "Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name, your kingdom come, your will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us today our daily bread. Forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one.' For if you forgive men when they sin against you, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if you do not forgive men their sins, your Father will not forgive your sins. When you fast, do not look somber as the hypocrites do, for they disfigure their faces to show men they are fasting. I tell you the truth, they have received their reward in full. so that it will not be obvious to men that you are fasting, but only to your Father, who is unseen; and your Father, who sees what is done in secret, will reward you” (Matthew 6:8-18)

The Play-Offs Begin!

Many of the folks that you know and love are baseball fans. The Indians are in the division playoffs again this year, and their fans are ever hopeful that they will win it all again! Yet there is more to baseball than home runs, pitching perfect games, or stealing bases. There is actually much wisdom in baseball, and many philosophers of life are rabid fans of the sport. Please allow me to share with you one lover of baseball and his view of life.

“I’ve always felt that the difference between the impossible and the possible lies in a person’s determination. Also a well timed prayer every now and then never hurts. I discovered this principle early in my baseball career while pitching in a triple A game. It was the first inning, and I had walked the first 3 batters thus loading the bases with no outs. Then I was 2-and-0 to the next batter and in danger of walking in a run. I knew that the manager was concerned and was about to come to the mound to pull me out of the game.

I grabbed the rosin bag, stepped off the mound, turned completely away from the plate, and put in a request of my own for “relief” on the mound. “Dear God,” I said, “please get me out of this mess.” After a few minutes of standing there with my back to the plate, the umpire came out to the mound to see what was up. “What are you waiting for?” he asked. “I am talking to God,” I told him. “Talking to God?” The umpire just shook his head which was something he probably did quite often around pitchers. “Let’s go,” he said. “Play ball.”

I took a breath to settle myself and threw the next pitch, and the batter hit a screaming line drive down the third base line, and I thought it’s all over now. Then all of a sudden the third baseman made this incredible leap. It seems like he jumped five feet off the ground and snagged the line drive. Then he fired it to second base and got the runner before he could get back to the bag forcing him out. Then the second baseman whipped the ball over to first base and caught that runner before he could get back, and it was a triple play. Oh, this pitcher was a guy by the name of Tommy Lasorda!

Is God concerned about baseball? It probably is not at the top of His list of concerns, but what He does care about is people! What we do know is that Almighty God wants us to pray on a regular basis. In the morning, the afternoon, the evening or any other time. We need to pray for those who are sick, are having surgery, are struggling with family and personal issues. I am also of the conviction that we need to ask our God to intervene in the lives of people who need to know the Christ for that is the most important request that we will ever make. Let us be prayer warriors! Shalom, Harold
