

GLOBAL WARMING

The Christian needs to consider biblical implications when the issue of global warming/climate change is contemplated. I propose asking oneself several questions to determine our response to the issue. President Biden's proposed 'fix-it' bill allots a couple of Billion dollars to combat man's impact as far as global warming is concerned. Is this necessary? First, if one supports this expenditure, it implies that Jesus has been stripped of some of his power. Hebrews 1:1-2, indicates God the Father has placed certain power to Jesus exclusively. John 1:1-3, indicates that the agent through which creation was accomplished was Jesus exclusively. Hebrews 1:2, says Jesus had the power of maintenance of this creative effort. If man caused global warming, or contributed significantly to it, then the maintaining power of Jesus was taken away, or at least reduced. Has Jesus lost ANY power? Secondly, if global warming has occurred, was it the result of God's will? If so, can man do anything to thwart it? Absolutely not! Therefore, Biden's bill is an exercise in futility, and should not be approved. Thirdly, some would suggest that global warming is God's will and is an effort of God to make man wake up and begin to take care of it with more effort. Consider 2 Peter 3:10-11, wherein God reveals that creation has a terminal date. Man's reaction to the judgment scene forthcoming, would be to prepare for it—not try to prevent it! What is the Christian's role here? Certainly, it begins with getting on the right side of this issue-and advocating for God's will to be promoted.
