MFDC comes in at 1:30, a minute later Juan says "a toda la familia de Chicago" referring to MFDC (easier than remembering "La Compañía de Danza Folklórica Mexicana de Chicago"). At 5:15 he sings "Mi Mexico es muy lindo , mi Mexico es encantador, y luego por sus artistas, su mariachi, su folklore" again recognizing MFDC and pointing to dancers. At 5:55 he dances with Jessica and David (above).

Founded in 1982 by Master Maestro Jose L. Ovalle. MFDC is the oldest Mexican Folkloric troupe in Chicago.

MISSION: To perpetuate the traditional dance, music, song, dress and history of Mexico.

To increase the Mexican progeny's knowledge and the public's awareness of such heritage.

BIO: MFDC showcases the richness of Mexican culture and heritage through festive dancing, diverse musical melodies and breath taking costumes. Suites reflect pre-Columbian indigenous, Spanish Colonialism, French Intervention, other European and Eastern cultures, Caribbean, Southwestern United States and the 1910 Mexican Revolution. The mixture of all these elements served to develop the present dance and music culture that is "Just Mexican" and unique. Performances are fast-paced and non-stop with many quick costume changes.

Since 1983 MFDC has received 285 Awards, Grants and Recognitions and has toured nationally and internationally in Mexico (1988) and Ireland (2007 and 2009). NOTABLE EVENTS ARE:
