THE E. REED REPORT

South Africa Redistribution of Land to Black Owners

South African President Cyril Ramaphosa said the ruling ANC will “finalize a proposed amendment” to allow land expropriation without compensation. Ramaphosa addressed South Africa’s parliament in Cape Town in February stating that the “original sin” of the country was the European colonizers taking land from the tribal people in the 1600s. The South African parliament passed a motion to take back the land.

“The expropriation of land without compensation is envisaged as one of the measures that we will use to accelerate redistribution of land to black South Africans,” Ramaphosa said at the time. He went on to promise, “We will handle it in a way that is not going to damage our economy.” Ramaphosa said on Tuesday that the controversial reforms were “of critical importance” to the economy. “It has become pertinently clear that our people want the constitution to be more explicit about expropriation of land without compensation as demonstrated in the public hearings,” Ramaphosa said in a recorded address to the nation according to the BBC.com. “The ANC will through the parliamentary process finalize the proposed amendment to the constitution that outlines more clearly the conditions under which expropriation of land without compensation can be affected.”

There has reportedly been a growing anger about the slow pace of land reform in South Africa. According to multiple reports, the country’s white minority has a disproportionate hold over land, especially the most fertile lands. Critics fear expropriation could lead to land grabs. However, Ramaphosa said it had become “patently clear” that the people want the constitution to be “more explicit” on the matter.

“We call on all South Africans to work with us on developing a social compact for economic inclusion, economic growth, and jobs for all,” Cyril Ramaphosa said, according to the BBC. Around 10% of land in white ownership has been transferred to black owners since the end of apartheid, which is only a third of the ANC’s target.

As noted by Reuters, many investors are concerned that the ANC’s reforms could be detrimental to the economy. Ramaphosa has insisted that any changes will not compromise food security or economic growth.

Those who will not take a chance seldom have one thrust upon them.

Success always involves risk. You must take a chance by investing your time, money, and effort. It pays to be thoughtful and deliberate in your analyses of opportunities, but don’t let timidity hold you back. Because you have worked hard to develop those things you must risk, it is natural for you to place a high value on them. But what good are they if you do not put them to use? You will recognize opportunity only to the extent that you are willing to consider risking your time, money, and effort. Being confident gives you the courage to face risk and act when opportunity arises. No one on earth is going to force success upon you; you will find it only to the degree that you actively seek it out.

"For me today was absolutely wonderful and such a gift. The 30 plus hugs were a bonus", said Carol, AAN member. "I once lived on McAlister down the street from Head Start. I have only wonderful memories of the people I encountered and met while living there. That was back in the days where neighborhood kids all played together and the neighborhood moms watched out and corrected all of us."

George Bridges, Jr. Receives Statewide Rising Star Award

– Waukegan Park District Commissioner George Bridges, Jr. was honored by the Illinois Association of Park Districts (IAPD) with the statewide Rising Star Award at the Illinois Association of Park Districts/Illinois Park and Recreation Association Soaring to New Heights Conference. The Rising Star Award was presented to Commissioner Bridges in recognition of his positive impact and dedication to the field of parks and recreation as a member of the Waukegan Park District Board of Commissioners.

Commissioner Bridges is the first elected African-American elected to serve on the Waukegan Park District Board of Commissioners and a product of the Waukegan Park District. As a board member, Commissioner Bridges' efforts have led to the creation of new special events, including the George Bridges 5K Run/Walk to promote physical and mental wellness while raising funds for cultural arts programs and the Waukegan Fire vs. Gurnee Fire Charity Hockey Match to support special recreation programs. Also, in an effort to encourage local companies to bid on park district projects, Commissioner Bridges suggested holding the Waukegan Park District Vendor Bridging Fair, connecting local vendors and contractors with the park district and the public.

Hiring Waukegan residents is of the utmost importance to Commissioner Bridges. With his input, the Waukegan Park District was able to expand job fair participation, host job fairs throughout the year, and increase the number of Waukegan youth working in the park and recreation departments.

In addition to his role at the Waukegan Park District, Commissioner Bridges serves as Chief of the Waukegan Fire Department, member of the IAPD Honors and Resolutions Committee, and member of the Exchange Club of Waukegan.

Waukegan Park District Executive Director Jay Lerner stated, "Commissioner Bridges is truly a rising star, engaged with his community and serving the Waukegan Park District with excellence in all things. We appreciate his vision and support as we move forward, working together to shape the future of the Waukegan Park District."

Waukegan Park District President Marc Jones congratulated Commissioner Bridges saying, "It is a pleasure serving with Commissioner Bridges on the Waukegan Park District Board. He is a reliable, thoughtful decision-maker who is acutely aware of how the community is impacted by any Board decision. This well-deserved honor is a tribute to his leadership skills and dedication to the Waukegan Park District"

The LOCKHART-WHITE REPORT

April 2019

A communique of the Community Action Partnership of Lake County

Helping People. Changing Lives. May is Community Action Month!

Mary Lockhart-White
Executive Director

Thank you to the many individuals, community organizations, faith base organizations, local, state, and federal government and corporations for the support that you have given to Community Action Partnership of Lake County to support those in need in Lake County. In 1964, President Lyndon Johnson's State of the Union address declared "unconditional war on poverty in America. This declaration was bold. Never before had a president declared war on a social ill. He intended not only to relieve the symptom of poverty but to cure and prevent it. Many social programs came from the War on Poverty: Head Start, Job Corps, VISTA and Community Action. Community Action Agencies address the root causes of poverty and equip low-income citizens with tools and opportunities to become self-sufficient. In his state of the union speech, Johnson said, "Very often a lack of jobs and money is not the cause of poverty, but the symptom. The cause may lie deeper in our failure to give our fellow citizens a fair chance to develop their own capacities, in a lack of education and training, in a lack of medical care and housing, in a lack of decent communities in which to live and bring up their children."

The War has not been won, and the battles are getting tougher every day. Community Action Agencies have been on the front lines of the war on poverty, helping people and changing lives. Without these present efforts, more people would certainly be in poverty. Too many of our citizens are living dangerously close to poverty.

This could be your neighbor, your grandparent or your child's classmate. For a family of four, the federal poverty line is an income of $25,750 per year. This barely covers basic family needs. Many Americans are paycheck or major illness away from poverty. The disparity between the wealthiest and the poorest Americans is greater than it was in the 1960's and without intervention the gap will only get bigger. So what do we do? How do we address the paradox of poverty in the midst of plenty? Let's start talking about Poverty. We acknowledge its existence so that we can address it effectively. Community Action Partnership of Lake County remains here to tell the story for those that can't speak for themselves; we are here to fulfill the promise of Community Action.

Community Action changes people's lives, embodies the spirit of hope, improves communities and makes America a better place to live. We care about the entire community, and we are dedicated to helping people help themselves and each other. Join us to celebrate our National Community Action Month events in May 2019:

- May 3rd, CAP Rally
- May 4th, 12th Annual Anti-Poverty 5K Walk, Friends and Family Day

Historic Number of Women Judges Elected In Houston Texas Area

Seventeen black women made history during the 2018 in winning judicial seats in Harris County, Texas. The 17 Democratic candidates were elected under a campaign they called Black Girl Magic Texas, hoping to be the largest number of black women elected judges in Harris County. Harris County, which includes Houston, is the largest county in the state. "This election is still sinking in," LaShawn Williams, judge-elect for one of the county civil courts at law, wrote on Facebook. "I am speechless and overjoyed by all of your kind words and powerful actions to help us make a court system which ensures that everyone will be heard." Of the 17 history-making women, Shannon Baldwin will be the county's first openly LGBTQ

African-American judge after winning her race, according to Out Smart magazine. The midterm elections were a historic night for female candidates, more of whom will be serving in Congress than ever before. Latosha Lewis Payne, judge-elect for the 55th Civil Judicial District, told a local Houston TV station that having a diverse bench would provide "equal opportunity for justice -- regardless of who you are." "I think that having an African-American judge or having a female judge, those are the kinds of things we bring to the bench, and we bring an understanding of a person who may come from that similar background," Payne said.

First Corinthians Celebrate 91 Years With Shekinah Glory

The First Corinthian Missionary Baptist Church of North Chicago celebrated its 91st Church Anniversary with two events, the first was a Friday night musical featuring area choirs and the musical group Skekinah Glory. The second event was held during Sunday Morning Worship, on March 10th, 2019.

The musical event, Sing His Praises, was led by Mistress of Ceremonies, Joy Gill. Choirs included the Voices of Corinthian, First Corinthian Male Choir, St. John's Church Choir, Christian Valley Baptist Church Choir, and the Greater Faith Church Baptist Choir. A special mime group JAMM, celebrated with a praise dance. Oboist, Yolanda Brooks performed to the worshipful delight of the audience with two powerful solos accompanied by Sharema Hannibal on keyboard. Highlighting the night was the Grammy and Stellar Award group Shekinah Glory who did not disappoint with their most famous song, "Praise is What I Do".

The night was a memorable occasion, one for the record books.

The Senior Pastor of First Corinthians is The Rev. Eugene Roberson.

Why Breakfast Really is the Most Important Meal of the Day

(StatePoint) You've probably heard the saying, "breakfast is the most important meal of the day." While there is some conflicting research that questions the importance of eating breakfast for weight loss, many other researchers conclude there are, in fact, many benefits for starting your day with a morning meal.

Briana Rodriquez, a Registered Dietitian with Jenny Craig, offers the inside scoop on breakfast and why there's still truth in that old saying, especially for those trying to improve their health.

Breakfast Basics

"Breakfast literally means 'breaking the fast,'" Rodriquez explains. "Blood sugar, also known as glucose, powers your muscles and brain. After 7-9 hours of sleep, blood sugar is naturally low and you need to replenish your energy stores."

But what if there's no time to spare in the morning? Rest assured, there are quick, easy breakfasts you can grab on-the-go.

Why Breakfast Matters

Although skipping meals or eating very little in the morning may seem like a sure-fire way to lose weight, Rodriquez explains it's not so simple.

"When you skip breakfast, you'll likely overcompensate later, eating your largest meal at night because you're extremely hungry. And that's not good if your intention is weight loss."

Making breakfast your largest meal of the day, also known as "front-loading," can lead to a healthier weight.

"Since digestion slows during sleep, late-night calories are less easily metabolized and will likely be stored instead of used as energy," Rodriquez explains. "A balanced, substantial breakfast works with your metabolism at its peak, helping support weight loss efforts naturally."

An added bonus? Weight loss isn't the only potential benefit of having a good breakfast; a 2013 study published in "Obesity" suggests other health gains in addition to weight loss, such as decreased risk of heart disease and Type 2 diabetes.

Eating breakfast may improve your health in more ways than one.
