

We all know #BlackFriday & #CyberMonday... But what about #GIVINGTUESDAY
Support Small Businesses and Non-Profits on this day... December 1, 2015. #PavingtheWayMSI

#GIVINGTUESDAY™

Join the Movement & Give Back

December 1st, 2015

As the holiday season of giving is approaching, we tend to follow the trend by following the widely recognized shopping events of #BlackFriday, and/or #CyberMonday. Well lets start a new trend!!! The trend of giving back to organizations and non-profits to support #SmallBusiness. #GIVINGTUESDAY is this Tuesday, December 1st, 2015, and by choosing to give on this day, you will help to start a new movement and set a new trend... #GIVING.

Paulette & Charles Jones from Paving the Way MSI a free standing behavioral Health clinic in Washington D.C. challenge you to blaze a new trail for your family and friends this holiday season and #GIVE.

Every dollar helps that one child who may not know how to cope with stresses from an abusive home, or that woman who is trying to raise the best child she can in a one parent house hold.

We need you to help make a change in the most under-served communities in our nation, Ward 8, S.E. Washington D.C. Join us as we join
